DETENTION SCREENING INSTRUMENT RESULTS FOR OCTOBER

- 9% (14 of 156) of youth scored in the high range (14+ points)
- 19% (30) youth were detained
- Had an overall detention override rate of 12% (16 of 139) (calculated as the % of youth who scored as low or moderate who were detained)
- 16 of the overrides were eligible for release or alternative, but placed in a more restrictive detention setting. Again, domestic incidents where youth were unable to return home for safety reasons was the most common reason for detention, which indicates a shelter would be worth considering.
- There were overrides down that were eligible for an alternative or detention, but were released with a citation. The reasons for the releases were that a mental health bed was available, juvenile was injured and taken for treatment, the juvenile was 11 and a 1ˢᵗ time offender, and that the offense was a misdemeanor not in the presence of an officer.
- 60% (93) of the referrals came from schools; 10% (16) from neighborhood-based incidents; 8% (13) from shopping malls/retail stores; 8% (12) came from homes; 5% (8) from street/hwy/public spaces; 5% (8) vehicles; 1% (2) business establishment; (1) residential area.
